When They Leave Us.

The exodus of our bodily troubles is doubly welcome if their departure is unaccompanied by pain. It is the fault of the best of commendable charities, which act solely upon the bowels, that in operating they gripe and weaken these organs. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters produce a laxative effect, but neither causes pain nor weakens the abdominal region or the stomach. This is pre-eminently the alternative which a constipated, bilious or dyspeptic person should use, since a resort to it involves no bodily discomfort nor produces a violent reaction. The liver is aroused, the stomach benefited, and the habit of body speedily and permanently improved by it. Fever and ague, rheumatism and kidney troubles are among the maladies for which recorded experience has proved it to be efficacious. It is a wholesome appetizer, and a far more reliable tranquilizer of the nerves than stomach-disturbing narcotics and sedatives.

Board of Equalization.

A comparison of the assessment returns from the various counties for 1887 with those returned by the boards of supervisors for this year, 1888, reveals the discrepancies have been found by the board of equalization. In some of the counties this year the various assessors failed to find as many acres of land as last year by several thousand, while in others there was a falling off in value of various kinds of property.

On city and town lots the board has raised the assessment, as returned this year, ten per cent. in Graham county, and twenty per cent. in Yuma; those of the other counties remaining the same as returned.

On improvements of city and town property a raise was made of ten per cent. in Cochise, ten per cent. in Graham, and ten per cent. in Yuma.

On lands, the assessment in Apache, Maricopa, Mohave, Yavapai and Pinal were untouched, while a raise of ten per cent. in Cochise, twenty per cent. in Gila, ten per cent. in Graham, and Pima and twenty per cent. in Yuma, was ordered.

On improvements on lands, the board has raised the assessment ten per cent. in Apache, Cochise, Graham and Pinal.

The value of cattle as assessed in the various counties is $10.50 per head in the southern counties, $12.21 in Yavapai, and $12.25 in Mohave.

On all other animals the assessments as returned have been permitted to remain.

The returns from the various counties show only two swine assessed in Yuma county, while Cochise appears as the banner county of the territory, in not having a single hog in it.

OUR TERRITORY.

Chips From Our Territorial Exchanges.

Waters of the Salt river are rising at Phoenix.

Tempe, Maricopa county, is to have a branch jail.

Diphtheria has broken out in St. Johns and vicinity.

Tucson thinks she is on the eve of a mining boom.

Tombstone is making an aggressive war on vagrants.

A Tombstone man has $10,000 to bet on Harrison's election.

Phoenix boasts of a political club known as the "Old Baldies."

"Grave Yard" canyon is the "suggested name of a Nogales suburb."

Miss George McClintock has been seriously ill in Globe, but is convalescing.

Suits have been commenced in Apache county to evict persons from property sold for taxes.

The Herald claims that Maricopa county will have 500 more votes this year than ever before.

The money order business of the Phoenix post office has amounted to $15,000 in the past six months.

A brass band has been organized in St. Johns, and the citizens of the place take to the balls which it plays.

Arizona is the only territory that pays its Judges a salary in addition to that paid by the Federal government.

James Dennis was killed accidentally near Phoenix by the premature discharge of a shot gun which he was loading.

A branch United States signal service station is to be established this month at Norton's ranch on the Mohave canal.

The Silver Belt says: "The fertility of this country soil is exemplified by the fact that Andrew Maurel, of Globe, produced and sold $1,000 worth of melons, this year, grown on an acre and a half of ground."

Chas. Peterson, of Phoenix, committed suicide by first opening the arteries of both arms, then plunging a knife into his side under his heart, twisting it around, to make sure work, and then discharged the contents of a shot-gun in his mouth, blowing the top of his head off.

The reorganization of Maricopa county seems to be a much coveted plum. On the democratic side there are four candidates for the nomination, while three names will be submitted to the republican convention—Alfa Church III, Phil Sheridan, and Henry Wharton, the latter being the present incumbent.

Speaking of the death of Chester Thomas, Jr., the Topeka Capital says: "Several days since paralysis set in, and since that time Mr. Thomas was unable to speak. At 9 a. m. Tuesday it was thought that he recognized his father. Since that time there were no indications that he recognized any one."

Mr. Thomas leaves a wife and one child, Mrs. Lou Kline, a wife and one child, Hot Springs, Arkansas. He was between 50 and 51 years of age at the time of his death. He was one of the best known and most popular men in Shawnee county. He came here from Pennsylvania in 1859. During 1862 he was a messenger on the Overland mail route, riding horseback from Topeka to Fort Salvo, Lake City and Sacramento, California, making a number of trips between these points in perilous times, and meeting with many narrow escapes. During the war he was a quartermaster and commissary agent, with headquarters at Denver. He was elected sheriff of this county in 1870, and served two terms, or to 1874. In 1876 he was elected county treasurer for two years, and re-elected in 1878, and in 1880 he was again elected sheriff, and served one term, declining to be a candidate for re-election.

In a recent interview with the Flagstaff Democrat, J. D. Houck stated that the reported Indian troubles in Tonto basin were false. The rumor arose from the shooting from a ambush of two or three men by white men. He also expressed the opinion that only the commencement of troublesome times had as yet been witnessed, that until a large and thoroughly organized band of Indians, and a number of men, are now operating in this and Apache county had been cleaned out there would be no peace for the wicked. The stock men, he says, are thoroughly determined to fight, and he said he had the lawless proceedings, which have run riot there for several years past.

Here is a pointer for some of our saloon men: An exchange says the butter kick habit is spreading. In Flagstaff buttermilk saloons are being a flourishing business. It is said that a buttermilk is charged with carbonic acid gas, it is just about as good as kummys and a great deal cheaper.

OUR MINES.

What is being done in the various Mining Camps in this Section

Geo. R. Roberts, the New York mining man, has gone out to take a look at the Hillside mine.

The Eagle mining claim, Eureka district, Arizona, is being sold by H. Dillon to Riggs & Lawler, for $25.

J. M. W. Moore has purchased of his partner, F. E. Daggett, his interest in the Annet mine, on Lynx creek, the price paid being $12,500.

J. M. W. Moore, who is vice president of the Arizona Ore company, is in charge of the sampling works during the absence of Mr. Cockburn.

H. A. Owens is developing the property recently located by him on the Santa Maria, with very satisfactory results. The ore is very high grade gold.

Mr. Hayes, a San Francisco mining man, who has been in this section for several days, left for California this afternoon. He is well pleased with the mining outlook here.

Five car loads, the first shipment of a car load lot, arrived yesterday at the sampling works for George Sines.

He expects the balance of the car load within a week. The ore is from Slate creek mines, taken out by Bigelow & Smith.

Superintendent Williams, of Copper basin, is not pushing work very rapidly on that property, his motto apparently being to "go slow, but sure."

Notwithstanding the absence of any work there in the past few months, he has taken out large quantities of ore, and has opened up very much more. Work of erecting a smelter has commenced, and the machinery for a new saw-mill for the company has arrived. We expect to see a steady progress and improvement there until the camp becomes one of the largest in northern Arizona.

Frank Leslie's Sunday Magazine for September.

Germany still mourns her heroic Emperor Frederick, and few can read without interest the well illustrated sketch which opens Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for September, tracing his whole career.

The Old Inns and taverns of London, "frequent" by wits and sages, is a chatty and pleasing pictorial article in the same number. Mr. McCann tells of "The Romantic Side of John Randolph's Life," bringing that eccentric statesman vividly before us with pen and pencil.

"A Well-dressed Tramp" is the rather deceptive title of a charming sketch of the Waxwings, a family of birds known in many parts of the country. In "Queer Corners at the Capital" Mr. Croft shows that our seat of government, if not able to boast of the royal relics of centuries, has quaint and strange objects that are charming array of, and which he pictures.

"Religious Mendic
